

Transformers: Dark of the Moon is a 2011 American science fiction action film based on the Transformers toy line. It's the third installment of the live-action film series, and stars Shia LaBeouf, Josh Duhamel, Tyrese Gibson, Rosie Huntington-Whiteley, Patrick Dempsey and John Malkovich. The story follows two humans with no recollection of their pasts who begin to suspect that they're cyborgs in disguise and that their memories have been wiped by an unknown party for reasons unknown. Directed by Michael Bay from a screenplay written by Ehren Krueger, the film is told in a nonlinear narrative. Dark of the Moon employed both regular 35mm film cameras and specially-developed 3-D cameras, with filming locations in Chicago, Florida, Indiana, Milwaukee, Moscow, Washington, D.C., and the Mojave Desert. The Chicago Film Office confirmed that Transformers: Dark of the Moon was filming in Chicago on July 14, 2010 with scenes being filmed at Roosevelt Road and Lake Street near the Merchandise Mart. The scenes for this shoot were later reported as being scenes set inside Steve Jablonsky's house. Soundstage B of the enormous Park Grill restaurant in downtown Chicago was used to shoot a scene involving several Decepticon robots, including both Bonecrusher and Ravage, walking down the street. Later in July, filming moved to the Loop area of downtown Chicago for scenes filmed on Lower Wacker Drive. On August 6, 2010, filming took place at the Willis Tower (formerly Sears Tower), then again in September 2010 near Michigan Avenue and Adams Street. The two teams were also seen filming an underwater sequence during this time period; it is assumed this was not for Dark of the Moon. On October 20–22, 2010 filming took place at an abandoned factory located off of Plankinton Avenue in Milwaukee. The crew for this shoot consisted of approximately 100 people. Filming was expected to continue for one week after November 6, 2010 for between ten and fifteen more days. Filming moved to Washington, D.C. on November 30, 2010, where the crew filmed scenes in front of the White House on Pennsylvania Avenue. On January 17, 2011 production moved to Wisconsin Avenue in Washington D.C., where the crew filmed inside the Washington Convention Center's Omni Hotel at 300 Indiana Avenue NW for one night while filming the interior scenes of the "Kreeghor" spaceship bridge footage on January 22–23. On February 1, 2011 production returned to Michigan Avenue for two days of filming in front of the Art Institute of Chicago. Filming also took place on Lower Wacker Drive on February 5–6. On February 27, 2011 filming took place at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport, where a set was built in Terminal 3 and Concourse C and D and actors Evan Jones and Titus Welliver were seen on set. For approximately six days through March 2–3, 2011, principal photography took place at the University of Chicago's Stagg Field located at 5807 South University Avenue for scenes involving Sentinel Prime and Jetfire. Filming continued to take place inside the Park Grill restaurant until March 31.
